

Foreign Policy Priority

More Work On Budget Scheduled

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson boosted foreign policy to a top priority spot on his schedule today. He also planned to get in more work on the federal budget and his State-of-the-Union message.

Associates said Johnson intends to devote considerable time today and during the remainder of the week to reviewing U.S. relations with nations around the world, including policy on loans, aid and cultural exchanges.

A source close to Johnson said he is closing out the year with a rather optimistic view of most of the world situation despite the problems in Viet Nam and the Congo.

He is known, for example, to feel that relations with the Soviet Union are less antagonistic than they have been at times in the past and sees fewer crises than have plagued the world in recent years.

He feels relations with Eastern Europe have improved and that the North Atlantic Alliance is in better shape than it has ever been.

Johnson is known to be pleased about what he regards as improved relations with nations of the Western Hemisphere, with Fidel Castro's Communist dictatorship in Cuba the major fly in the ointment.

As part of his efforts to bolster relations with various nations, the President is working on dates for visits from a large number of chiefs of state during the coming months. These visits are expected to average about two a month during the next year.

In addition, Johnson is known to be considering the appointment of a large number of new ambassadors. It was indicated as many as 15 or 20 posts might be involved.

The State-of-the-Union message, the first of the "big three" messages going to Congress in January, is "pretty well bracketed out," a qualified source said, and the actual writing has been started.

Mutilated Body Pulled From Well

NEOSHO, Mo. — (AP) — The mutilated body of a 62-year-old woman was pulled from a deep well yesterday and police are holding her 70-year-old husband for questioning.

Mrs. Josie Scribner had been reported missing by her husband, Floyd, on Dec. 5.

The well is about 100 yards from a house where the Scribners formerly lived. It is hidden in deep brush.

The body was in four pieces at the bottom of a 25-foot well. There was about eight inches of water in the well.

Sheriff John Tuggle had conducted periodic searches of the area around diamond and Granby, Mo.

A search party that included the Newton County Emergency Communications Club and local farmers set out at daybreak yesterday. The body was discovered about 5 p.m. by Sherman Moore, a policeman from Granby.

The county coroner said the woman apparently had been killed by a blow on the head and that the body then was severed with an axe.

Border Guards Shoot A Would-Be Escapee

BRUNSWICK, Germany (AP) — A man trying to escape from East Germany was shot and probably killed this morning by East German border guards, West German border police reported.

The report said the East German guards spotted the man shortly after dawn and opened fire with submachine guns. He lay motionless in the snow for some time before the East Germans carried off the body.

In Prepared Statement

Mayor Airs Personal View On Garbage Collection Fee

Concerning matters relating to recent public comments about the City of Sedalia's garbage collection fee, the employment of an industrial development officer, and the municipal airport, Mayor L. L. Studer today issued a personal memorandum on these subjects, as follows:

"1. There has been so much publicity and misunderstanding about the $1 per month fee for the collection of garbage and mixed refuse materials from the homes of Sedalia, that I should like to issue this statement.

"2. The City, prior to October, 1964, provided for a period of 17 years free garbage and mixed refuse materials collection and the expense therefore has become so great that the practice could not possibly be continued without adversely affecting the operations of the various departments of the city.

"3. We, therefore, conducted a survey to determine the prevailing practice in other cities of the state. This disclosed that all of the cities similar in size to Sedalia charged a fee that ranged from $1.50 to $2 per month. A fee of only $1 per month was then established for Sedalia. All of the cities (except Jefferson City) made the collection on the monthly bills of the water company domestic customers. At Jefferson City, the service was contracted to an outside concern with a fee of $2 per month paid to the contractor and was payable three (3) months in advance. Why then should the citizens of Sedalia be classified as garbage fee victims where less than one (1) per cent of the 7,400 domestic water customers protested the fee of $1 per month?

"4. The City, after considerable study and discussion, approved an ordinance providing for a fee of only $1 per month with the understanding that the revenue derived therefrom would be used for (1) to increase the salaries of the City employees on appointive jobs because they were grossly underpaid. (2) To purchase necessary equipment to replace equipment in need of costly repairs. (3) To contribute some funds if and when available to assist in the payment of salaries and expenses of a qualified Industrial Officer as recommended by the Midwest Research Bureau and the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of inducing new industries to locate in Sedalia, thus improving at least to some extent the prevailing unemployment situation in Sedalia.

"(5) The saddest thing that we know of, with the exception of ill health, is men pounding the pavements looking for jobs, and we now have many of our people doing just that and about the least that we should do for them and their families is contribute some funds, if and when the necessary funds are available, to assist in the payment of the salary and expenses of a qualified Industrial Development Officer (not an engineer) to induce new industries to locate in Sedalia.

"(6) It is, indeed, regrettable that the article which appeared in the daily press on Dec. 20, has led the public to believe that the City plans to bring an outside engineer to Sedalia to tell the public what they already know, and at a salary of $25,000 annually. The City does not now and has never agreed to do this. New industry is needed to supply additional payrolls to support the present economy and

Snow, Wind Lashing At Flood Area

Add to Suffering Of the Hundreds Still Marooned

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Heavy mountain snows and gusty coastal winds lashed the northern California flood area Sunday at the end of a week of unprecedented torrential rains, adding to the suffering of hundreds still marooned and hampering relief and rescue work.

But the colder weather has put a brake on rivers that had rampaged from the mountains to the Pacific Ocean in the hardest hit area — Oregon and northern California.

More snow in the mountains and wind and rain below were forecast for today.

The Columbia dropped enough in Washington to permit start of cleanup work. The flood threat appeared over in Idaho but the little town of St. Joe, population 75, in the Panhandle, still was without electricity. In Nevada the Truckee River withdrew its threat to Reno.

California counted 19 flood dead with the confirmation Sunday that four had drowned when a helicopter plunged into the Eel River 40 miles south of Eureka Saturday. Seven died in another California 'copter crash last Tuesday north of Eureka.

Oregon reported 18 deaths from flood action. The Red Cross listed 16,300 families as suffering major losses to homes, businesses or farms in Oregon, California, Idaho and Washington.

Israel and Jordan Forces Clash Twice

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli and Jordanian forces clashed twice this morning in the central sector of the Jordan-Israel frontier, an Israeli army spokesman said.

expand it to employ many people now unemployed in Sedalia, but it was never suggested or intimated that such a man would be paid a salary of $25,000 annually.

"(7) The article in the press on Dec. 20, stated that industry will only go to a community that has recreational facilities, airport facilities, good schools and churches, and then comments that Sedalia is lacking in the first two and even suggests the name of a widely known football coach that may be interested in coming to Sedalia at a salary of $25,000 annually.

"(8) The City did make an effort to provide air line transportation for commercial customers at the local airport by the approval of a six months lease in the year, 1962, to the Executive Aircraft Company. They did operate a six passenger plane two round trips per day between Sedalia and Kansas City, and then before the lease expired they discontinued the service because they could not average one airline passenger per day.

"(9) I am well aware that many of our citizens are not in agreement with my views with respect to enlargement of the local airport, and I respect their right to disagree with me. However, it is apparent that the citizens of Sedalia must have shared similar views because in the Airport Bond Issue Election in the year 1961, to provide for an expanded and enlarged local airport.

Allow US Troops Out Of Air Base

After a Weekend Of Restrictions Due to Protest

MANILA (AP) — American servicemen were allowed out of Clark Air Base today after a weekend of restrictions imposed by the U.S. Air Force because of a protest rally in the nearby town of Angeles.

Some speakers at the rally Sunday urged removal of U.S. military bases from the Philippines and the recall of U.S. Ambassador William McCormick Blair Jr. There was no violence.

The rally, attended by about 2,000 Filipinos, was called to protest the killing of two Filipino trespassers by guards on U.S. bases and Blair's charge that two Filipinos had tried to bomb an American school at Clark.

The call for removal of U.S. bases was taken up by several congressmen, including Rep. Benjamin Ligot, a member of President Diosdado Macapagal's Liberal party. He recommended that the United States "put a fleet around the Philippines" as it does around Formosa.

Justice Secretary Salvador Marino was reported planning to start Saturday on an investigation ordered by President Macapagal. Marino and other Philippine officials have urged calm and sobriety. Macapagal has taken the position that no action can be taken until all the facts are known.

Problem Not 'Reflective Of Situation'

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — A U.S. Army spokesman said today that a report to President Johnson describing an acute problem of racial discrimination near American bases in Germany is "not reflective of the current situation."

"We would certainly not regard this problem as acute at the present time," said the spokesman at the Army's European headquarters.

He said the report apparently was based on information collected on a tour of European bases two years ago.

In a final report, made known Sunday, the President's Commission on Equal Opportunity in the Armed Forces notified Johnson that racial discrimination in public accommodations and housing near bases was "particularly acute in Germany and certain areas of the Far East." It said vigorous action should be taken by base commanders to eliminate discrimination affecting soldiers off base.

American Army authorities here would not call the report unfair.

Seven US Helicopter Crewmen Hit By Fire

DAI NGAI, South Viet Nam (AP) — Government forces overran a major Viet Cong position Sunday, killing at least 67 guerrillas and capturing 10 others as well as a large stock of weapons.

It was one of the most significant government successes in the past year. U.S. officers believed that the position, 75 miles southwest of Saigon, was a Viet Cong zone command headquarters. The Communists have divided South Viet Nam into seven zones.

In Efforts To Resolve UN Crisis

U Thant Takes A Leading Role In Negotiations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Negotiators made last-minute efforts at the United Nations today to resolve the crisis over peacekeeping assessments with Secretary-General U Thant taking a leading role.

The negotiations were at a crucial stage as diplomats sought to head off a Soviet-U.S. showdown over the Soviet refusal to pay for peacekeeping costs for the Congo and Middle East.

A U.N. spokesman said Thant would return to his headquarters office this afternoon for the first time since he went to a hospital Dec. 4 for treatment of a peptic ulcer.

He was expected to confer with key delegates, including Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko and U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, U.N. sources said.

Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana, the assembly president, also was active in the talks, the sources said.

Quaison-Sackey conferred with the representatives of Jordan and Mali in an effort to resolve their rival candidacies for a Security Council seat that constituted one hurdle in the crisis.

Quaison-Sackey set up also an early afternoon meeting with Fedorenko.

The negotiators hoped to work out some agreement before the assembly's next meeting, scheduled for Tuesday morning. The Security Council cannot function after Thursday — New Year's Eve — unless agreement is reached on the basic issue or unless two disputed council seats are filled without a vote so as to avoid a challenge of the Soviets' right to vote.

To Stress Resources In Message

LBJ To Address Joint Session On State of Union

JOHNSON CITY, Texas — (AP) — President Johnson will stress "achievement of the full potential of our resources" in his State of the Union message.

The message will be delivered to a joint session of Congress at 9 p.m., Jan. 4 — opening day of the new Congress.

To those seeking a clue as to the tone of his State of the Union message, Johnson is referring them to an article he wrote for the 1958 winter issue of the Texas Quarterly when he was Democratic leader of the Senate.

It begins: "I am a free man, an American, a United States senator, and a Democrat in that order."

"I am a liberal, a conservative, a Texan, a taxpayer, a rancher, a businessman, a consumer, a parent, a voter, and not as young as I used to be nor as old as I expect to be — and I am all these things in no fixed order."

Some excerpts: "First, I believe every American has something to say and, under our system, a right to an audience."

"Second, I believe there is always a national answer to each national problem, and, believing this, I do not believe that there are necessarily two sides to every question."

Two Young Men Held For Robbery

Two young men believed to have entered the C. M. Sellers, Jr., farm home on north Highway 65 near the Pettis-Saline county line were apprehended late Sunday afternoon at Princeton, Mo.

Alertness of Mr. and Mrs. David Walk, neighbors to the Sellers farm, in noting the car and getting its license number played a part in identification, Sheriff Emmett Fairfax reported.

The Walks were driving past the Sellers home about 1:30 p.m. enroute to their own home when they noticed a white car parked in the farm yard which aroused their suspicions. On reaching their home, they watched the Sellers home through binoculars and noted two young men carrying something to their car.

The automobile was next seen passing the Walk home and Walk got into his car and followed it toward Sedalia. He obtained the license number, which had been issued in Texas.

When the Sellers arrived home shortly after 5 p.m. they called the Walks to ask if they had noticed anything in the neighborhood as their home had been robbed. Mrs. Walk explained what they had seen and Mrs. Walk, whose phone is on a Sedalia line, notified Sheriff Fairfax and informed him of the happenings.

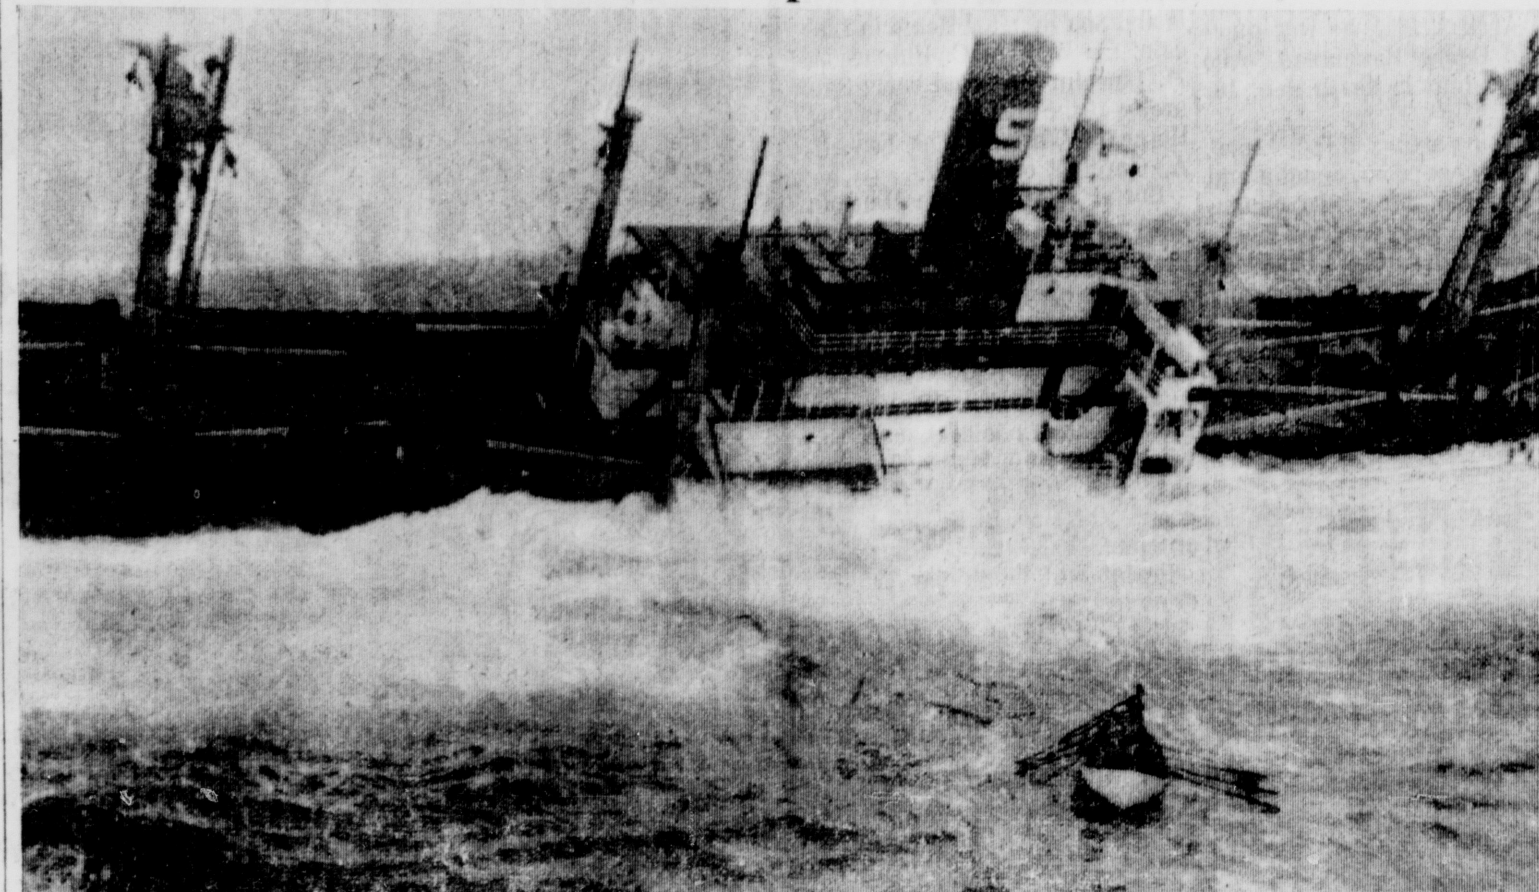

Sometime in the meantime the car with the two youths had turned around and headed north. Fairfax notified the State Highway Patrol at Lee's Summit of the robbery, description of the car license number and description of the two youths. It was learned a few minutes before that a report had been received of the robbery of a home near Trenton in Grundy County. A car of the same description had been seen in that area.

About a half hour later the car was apprehended at Princeton with the same license number as given to the patrol by Fairfax. The two youths in the car at the time, according to Sheriff Fairfax, gave the names of Thomas Irvin and Rex Jones.

A wrist watch and various Christmas presents reportedly taken at the Sellers home were reported to have been in the car at the time of the apprehension, according to Sheriff Fairfax.

Entrance to the Sellers home was made through a rear door. Sheriff Fairfax said the sheriff of Grundy County, in which the (Please turn to page 2, col. 3)

Murphy requested a preliminary hearing and Judge Frank Armstrong set the date for Jan. 27. Bail bond for Murphy was set at $7,500 and he is being held in the county jail in lieu of that amount.

Police arrested Murphy about 1:40 a.m. Saturday after officers had been notified of the shooting incident. Wounded was Sterling Robinson, 22, 432 North Washington, who had been struck by a bullet 2 1/2 inches above the left eyebrow.

After emergency treatment at Bothwell Hospital Robinson was taken to the University of Missouri Medical Center, Columbia, where he underwent surgery and was reported in satisfactory condition and doing well.

Date of Murphy's preliminary hearing was set some 30 days in advance in order that Robinson might be available for appearance.

Fires In City

A motor on a sump pump burned out about 6:15 p.m. Sunday at the VFW Hall, 121 South Ohio, resulting in $25 damage.

Firemen extinguished a blaze which caused slight damage to a Washington Park shelter house at 5:23 p.m. Sunday. Origin of the fire was undetermined.

New Twist For Carol By Dickens

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Almost everything about a special television program called "Carol for Another Christmas" is to be broadcast on ABC tonight is unusual. For one thing television writers were invited to see the program and review it in advance.

This is an almost unheard of procedure, since disparaging reviews are likely to discourage viewers. However, in concept, execution and motive, this 50-minute filmed ghost story is an extraordinary departure for commercial television.

"Carol for Another Christmas" is the first to be made under a $4-million grant by a photocopy equipment manufacturer to a non-profit foundation for the production of strong dramatic shows editorializing and explaining the work of the United Nations. Top theatrical talents—writer, director and actors—are working for minimum salaries to make them. Commercial messages will not interrupt them.

Tonight's drama was written by Rod Serling around Dickens' famous Christmas story. In this case, Ebenezer Scrooge is a contemporary tycoon named Dan Grudge, who is bitter over the death in war of his only son, Marley. Grudge is furiously isolationist, opposes the United Nations and is dedicated to the proposition of a very strong America which should "stay on our own side of the fence."

Into his baronial hall on the Christmas Eve anniversary of Marley's death comes the Cratchett-like figure of his nephew, a man of good will, seeking to change his attitude. He fails, but Grudge soon finds himself aboard a creaking ship which is transporting the dead of all wars past and carries also the ghost of Christmas Past. The Ghost's message: These men died because the men who govern nations stopped talking to each other and started fighting.

The program is magnificently produced and handsomely acted by Sterling Hayden, who plays Grudge, and Ben Gazzara, his nephew. Steve Lawrence, Pat Hingle and Robert Shaw are the port, this was defeated by a margin of better than four to one votes. We do have a local airport, and I shall favor supporting it as is, but I shall oppose the spending of the taxpayers' funds to expand and enlarge the local airport unless authorized by a majority vote of the people.

"(10) The term of the present Mayor of Sedalia, for which he was elected in the month of April, 1962, will expire in the month of April, 1966, and at that time he will most certainly not seek re-election, but will be so very glad to surrender the office to the new Mayor. But in the intervening time, I shall continue to devote my every effort in what I honestly and sincerely believe to be in the best interests of all of the citizens of Sedalia and without regard to their race, creed, color or political affiliation.

three ghosts. Peter Sellers, with frightening humor, plays the mad demagogue of the future.

It is strong medicine and it says what it has to say in unequivocal terms. Like it or not, it is a program which the thoughtful person should not miss. Recommended tonight: "Carol for Another Christmas," ABC, 9:30-11 EST.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Is it thoughtlessness, stupidity, cruelty, ignorance or just plain nosiness, that makes people ask members of the family, "Was it cancer?"

My father had surgery a few days ago. The surgeon gave us bad news. We expected the worst but still we clung to the hope that all would be well. My mother is heart-sick and so am I. We are trying to be brave—and silent—but people won't let us. They keep badgering us with questions, pumping us for information.

Yesterday I received six telephone calls, all from people wanting to know details. I've been saying, "We are hoping for the best," because I don't wish to discuss it further. One caller said, "You might as well face facts. It will be easier later." Another caller said, "My mother died of cancer and I pity you. You'll go through plenty these next few months."

Why do people do this? How shall I deal with them?—NEAR THE EDGE.

Dear Near: People do this because they are thoughtless, stupid, cruel, ignorant or nosy—or a combination of all five adjectives.

Real friends are supportive and available if you need them, but they don't push beyond the bounds of good taste by asking questions.

Crepe-hangers who feed on the misery of others are not friends. They are morbidly curious clods.

Dear Ann Landers: A few days ago I had an important business appointment out of the city. I was dressed in my best suit and my wife was driving me to the railroad station to catch the train. She was wearing blue jeans.

We got a flat tire. I said to my wife, "Since I'm dressed in my best suit and you are in jeans, why don't you change the tire?" She replied, "You must be out of your head. I wouldn't think of it."

As we were arguing, a big-hearted farmer stopped and changed the tire for us. I tried to give him a few dollars for his trouble but he wouldn't accept it.

Do you think I was justified in making the suggestion, under the circumstances? (P. S. My wife is not a frail little flower. She is 5'6" and weighs 150 pounds.)—ARTY.

Dear Art: No man should ASK his wife to change a tire. If she volunteers, under special conditions, that's another story.

A great many women (myself included) would be useless in such an emergency. The piano-moving, tire changing types who can flip off the flat and slap on a new number just like that, are pretty special. Since your wife did not offer, you should have gone ahead on your own (and prayed for that farmer who DID arrive.)

Dear Ann Landers: I am a girl who is a high school senior. My kid brother is a freshman. Eugene attends many of the same school activities which I attend and this is creating problems.

I received my driver's license a few months ago and am permitted to drive the family car to the games. I usually take some girl friends along. When Eugene has no other plans my mother says I have to take him and bring him home. I don't mind, but I DO think it is unfair of my mother to insist that I take Eugene along when my girl friends drive and invite me in their cars.

Not only do I hate dragging a kid brother along but my curfew is a half hour later than Eugene's and when he is with me I get gyped. Advice is needed.

—UGHSVILLE.
Dear Ughs: Eugene should attend school activities with boys his own age and not tag along with his sister's friends. If you think it will help, tell your mother I said so.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation 20 At all drug counters.

Browns, Bills Top In Pro Grid Action

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland has ended the rule of the West in the National Football League by exploding the myth of Baltimore's super-team on a grey, wintry Sunday afternoon.

When Frank Ryan, Gary Collins, Jim Brown and Co. finished rambling over the shocked Colts 27-0, they had exposed Johnny Unitas and Lenny Moore as ordinary mortals, not supermen.

Because Baltimore rolled to 11 straight victories in the West and wound up with a brilliant 12-2 record, the Colts had been installed as solid seven-point favorites to chase the Browns into Lake Erie.

The Colts' supermen were supposed to rush Ryan so fiercely that he would spend the day flat on his back, scanning the snow clouds overhead.

Baltimore's well-balanced offense was expected to shatter the Browns' defense, poorest in the league in the season statistics, and expose their pass defenders as inept pretenders.

To the contrary, Ryan was thrown for a loss only once. The mathematical wizard threw three touchdown passes and outplayed the great Unitas.

Collins set a playoff record by grabbing three scoring passes and Brown bulldozed the Colts' league-leading defense for 114 yards on 27 carries and also caught three passes for 37 additional yards.

Just to rub it in, 40-year-old Lou Groza kicked two more field goals and ran his point total to a record 49 in eight championship games.

All of this was a delight to most of the 79,544 fans in the vast wind-swept stadium on the lake front. In the final seconds, they demolished the goal posts at one end of the field while the officials let the final 26 seconds tick away.

The West had won six of the last seven title games and had humiliated the East by running up a 10-4 score in inter-conference play during the regular season.

Until the aroused Browns ended the string, the only Eastern triumph since 1956 had been Philadelphia's 17-13 squeaker over Green Bay in 1960. Detroit, Baltimore, Green Bay and Chicago all had taken turns, deflating the pride of the East.

Both Coach Blanton Collier of the Browns and Don Shula of the Colts, a unique teacher-student combination, had based their game plans on ball control. Each tried to establish — to use a coaching word — their ground game. Collier succeeded and Shula didn't. It was as simple as that.

After a scoreless first half, the Browns struck quickly for 17 points in the third quarter with the help of two short punts of 25 and 27 yards by the Colts' Tom Gilberg against a 20-mile-an-hour wind.

Groza's 43-yard field goal was the first blow. Then came Ryan's 18-yard scoring toss to Collins, the 6-foot-4 flanker from Maryland, and Ryan's 42-yard TD pass to the same powerful receiver.

When the Colts dug in and stopped the Browns on the goal line early in the final period, Cleveland had to settle for a nine-yard field goal by Groza.

Collier Is Happy With His Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — His close friends call him George and he shakes hands with his left hand "because it's the one closer to my heart."

He's Blanton Collier, head coach of the National Football League champion Cleveland Browns — and he shook lots of hands Sunday after the Browns beat the Baltimore Colts 27-0 for the NFL title, their first since 1955.

Friends and well-wishers crammed the Browns' locker room to congratulate the bespectacled 58-year-old grandfather who was named head coach two seasons ago.

In a sometimes clipped Kentucky accent, Collier said, "I know it's corny, but it really was a magnificent team effort. The defense was just great and you've got to give them a lot of credit."

In two years, Collier has skippered the Browns to a 20-7 record and a championship. He is no stranger to Cleveland, however. This is his 11th season with the Browns and 36th year in coaching.

"I'm just a football nut," he said.

Collier's coaching thread winds back to Paris, Ky., high school, where he began studying pro football tactics by watching the Philadelphia Eagles work on the T-formation at nearby Bainbridge.

He devoured football knowledge. As an athletic specialist at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center in World War II, Collier used to hang around the practice field watching a coach named Paul Brown.

Brown wondered about the curious observer taking notes and it was the start of a long friendship.

Collier was on the ground floor as an assistant coach when the Browns broke into the All-American Conference in 1946.

Collier stayed with the Browns until 1954, then returned to his home state as head coach to succeed Paul Bryant at the University of Kentucky.

During his eight-year stay with the Wildcats, Collier had a young assistant who, he said, had the makings of a fine pro football coach. He was Don Shula, head coach of the Baltimore Colts.

Brown asked Collier to come back in 1962 and he did. That year the Browns had their second worst season (7-6-1) in 18 years of professional football. Art Modell, who bought the club in 1961, decided to change coaches.

He named Collier and it was typical of the man that he didn't accept until he first talked to Brown — his friend for 15 years.

Surrounded by newsmen Sunday, Collier fielded their questions on the fly, and, as has been his policy this season, didn't single out anyone for special praise.

"I can't think of anyone who didn't have a good day," he said. Quarterback Frank Ryan, certainly did, and it was Collier who tutored the ex-Los Angeles Ram when Ryan came to Cleveland in 1962. He made Ryan a starter last season, and Frank refers to him as "the most complete coach I've ever known."

BUFFALO (AP) — Mike Stratton, 230-pound Buffalo linebacker, was the key man in two crucial plays that pointed the Bills to a 20-7 victory over San Diego and their first American Football League championship.

And on one of them it was all unintentional.

Both the losing coach and quarterback, Sid Gillman and Tobin Rote, named Stratton's play as decisive in their reviews of the championship game Saturday.

"If I hadn't underthrown that pass in the second quarter, we might have gotten some kind of score and turned the game in a different direction," said Rote, a 36-year-old veteran of three professional leagues who had played his last game.

He referred to a first-down play in the closing minutes of the first half. Buffalo had a 13-7 lead, but the Chargers were driving from the Bills' 15. Stratton picked off a Rote pass to end the threat.

"If there was a turning point," Gillman said, "that pass interception was it."

"The loss of Keith Lincoln also hurt us. I would say, if anything, his loss helped Buffalo a great deal — we lost a lot of our football team when Lincoln was injured."

Lincoln, who gained 339 yards in all manners of offense in San Diego's 51-10 rout of Boston in the title game last year, appeared to be on his way to another great game before the injury.

In the first 6½ minutes he had picked up 47 yards rushing and had taken a pass for 11 more. Then Stratton nailed him with a crushing tackle and the San Diego fullback lay writhing on the ground. He eventually made his way to the sidelines and was through for the day — a right rib broken.

"It was a fine tackle by a fine football player," Lincoln said. "I was disappointed because we lost, and also because I couldn't play."

"I just thought Keith had the breath knocked out of him," Stratton said later. "I never realized I had broken a rib."

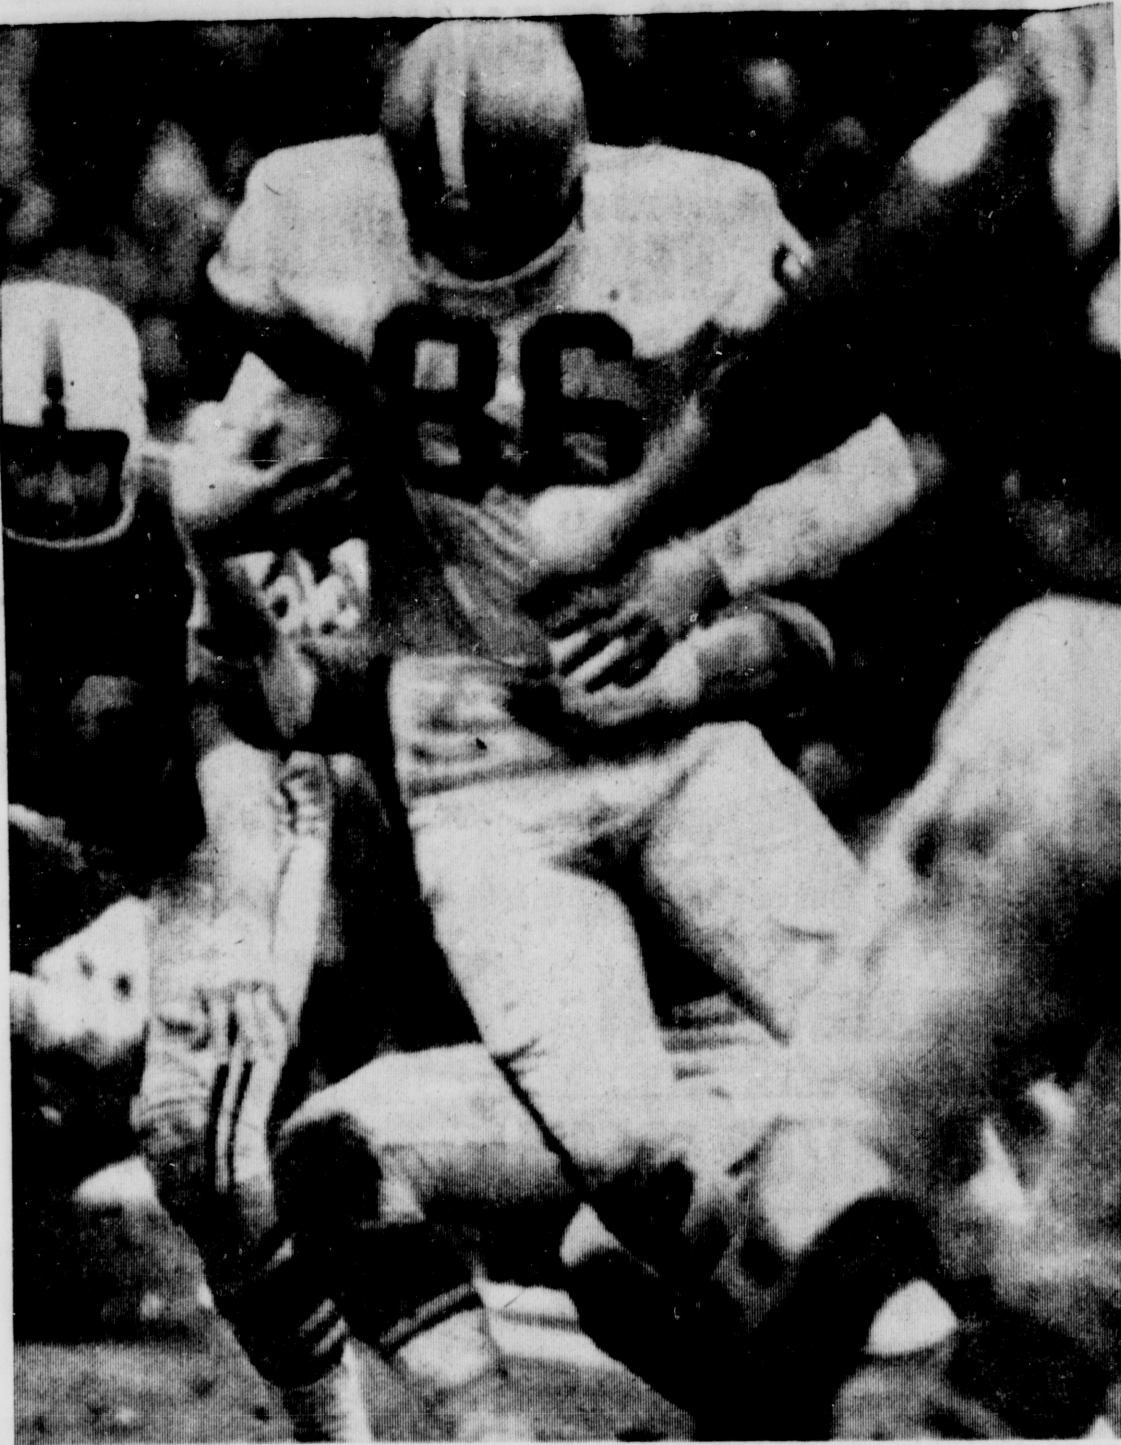

San Diego, sparked by Lincoln, swept 80 yards on a touchdown drive the first time the Chargers got their hands on the ball. Lincoln accounted for the first 54 yards, including a 38-yard run, and Rote hit Dave Kocourek with a 26-yard touchdown pass.

"It jarred us quick," said Buffalo Coach Lou Saban. "It jarred us to our senses — it woke us up."

Pete Gogolak got the Bills back in stride with a 12-yard field goal. Wray Carlton slammed over for the go-ahead touchdown a few minutes later and the Bills were ahead to stay.

8 Of Big Ten Teams Put Rankings On Line Today

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Eight of college basketball's Top Ten teams, led by Michigan and Wichita, must protect their high rankings in holiday tournaments tonight, but none is expected to have the in-law trouble that Coach Ladell Anderson of Utah State encountered in the Rainbow Classic at Honolulu.

Michigan, the No. 1 team, meets Manhattan in the first round of the Holiday Festival at New York. Second-ranked Wichita, which has lost only to Michigan, plays Villanova, one of nine major unbeatens, in the Quaker City semifinals at Philadelphia.

Six other teams play in five tournaments tonight while Minnesota No. 3, was scheduled to play an afternoon game, leaving sixth-ranked Duke as the only Top Ten team idle.

Utah State's Anderson was anything but idle Saturday night following his team's 94-91 overtime loss to the Hawaii Marines in a first-round game of the Rainbow tournament.

Upset with what he termed "poor officiating," Anderson rushed onto the floor immediately after the final buzzer and engaged in a midcourt conversation with one of the referees, Creighton Richards.

Suddenly, Jimmy Aiona, Richards' father-in-law, charged out of the stands, onto the floor and dropped Anderson with a right hook to the face.

His conversation ended, Anderson was taken to a hospital for treatment of a bloody nose and said:

"It was just one of these things that can happen in the heat of battle. I was upset over some bad calls, and now I'm sorry about the whole incident."

Aiona, a retired referee who heads the local referees' organization, was arrested and charged with assault and battery after receiving a severe tongue-lashing from Mayor Neal S. Blaisdell of Honolulu, who witnessed the one-punch fight from the stands.

When the outburst finally was quelled, Wisconsin met Boston College and won 70-69 on Paul Morenz' jump shot with 14 seconds left. The Rainbow's last two opening-round games are set for tonight.

Also on the schedule are games in 12 other major tournaments. Among the most interesting is the Quaker City Classic.

Wichita, 6-1, plays Villanova,

8-0, after annihilating Pitt 109-58 Saturday. Villanova defeated Penn. its Philadelphia neighbor, 52-47 in overtime.

In the other semifinal, seventh-ranked Illinois, 7-1, will try to halt St. Joseph's unbeaten string at eight. Illinois trampled NYU 102-79 while St. Joseph's whipped Holy Cross 82-63.

Michigan, 6-1, goes into the Holiday Festival as the favorite in a field of eight. The Wolverines, who lost to Nebraska, haven't played since they beat Butler last Wednesday.

The Los Angeles Classic has two Top Ten teams — Minnesota and fourth-ranked UCLA, which has lost only to Illinois in seven games. The Bruins meet Arizona in a first-round game tonight while Utah, 8-0, takes on Michigan State. Minnesota, 6-0, was paired with Washington in the afternoon.

One highly ranked team will fall in the Memphis State Classic at Memphis when eighth-ranked Indiana, 7-0, battles ninth-rated St. Louis, 6-1.

San Francisco, No. 5 and undefeated in six games, plays Pepperdine in the WCAC tournament at San Jose, Calif., and 10th-ranked Davidson opens with Alabama in the Charlotte, N.C., Invitational.

The Far West Classic continues tonight with Northwestern meeting Washington State and Army engaging Oregon State. Tennessee increased its unblemished record to 6-0 Saturday night by downing Portland 70-59 behind Ron Widby's 19 points and a zone defense.

Tennessee will meet Oregon, which upset Purdue 92-76 as Bill Jennings poured in 30 points. Oregon's come-from-behind rally that started late in the first half overshadowed the 40-point effort of Dave Schellhase.

Semifinals Tuesday

First Round Play In Tourney Is Set

KANSAS CITY (AP)—It's Nebraska vs. Colorado, both consistent first round losers, and Oklahoma State's talented veterans against spirited Missouri tonight, completing the first round in the 19th Big Eight holiday basketball tournament.

The winners will meet in Tuesday's semifinals. Kansas, 72-55 winner over Iowa State and Kansas State, 75-65 victors over Oklahoma Saturday, will square off in the other semifinal.

Henry Iba of Oklahoma State, one of two active college coaches in the nation with more than 700 victories, will be honored between games for leading the U.S. Olympic team to another championship.

A Big Eight basketball title is the only honor that has eluded the 60-year-old Iba. His club this season, now 5-2, is basically the same team that has started fast, then faded in the stretch two seasons in a row.

Jim King, a 6-6 smoothie named the Cobra for his quick moves, is an outstanding rebounder and deadly shooter. Gene Johnson, 6-7, is a good rebounder and scorer but is in constant foul trouble. Gary Hassmann, 6-3, and Larry Hawk, 6-1, are deadly outside shooters. All four are seniors, averaging over 10 points a game.

Sophomore Freddie Moulder, 6-3, is shooting 50 per cent and scoring at an 8.9 pace with his peculiar high, arching shot.

Missouri, 4-3, has two of the league's best rebounders in Ned Monsees and George Flamank, both 6-foot-5 and averaging over 10 grabs a game. Monsees, a 220-pounder who moved up from the intramural ranks, muscles and wedges his way like Med Mark, forward for Missouri's 1954 tourney titlists.

Surprising Nebraska, 5-3, is the only club to beat top-ranked Michigan.

The Huskers have a pair of outstanding sophomores in Fred Hare, No. 2 league scorer with 18.0 and Nate Branch, 12.9 after shooting 17-for-20 his last two games. Bob Antulov, 6-foot-7, and Coley Webb, 6-5 and 215, are the best rebounders. All five starters are over 10.0.

Nebraska has scored only five first round victories in 19 years and none since its third-place 1958 finish, best ever for the Huskers. Colorado also has won just five times in the first round, none since 1959.

Colorado, now 3-5, is getting only minimum help from its big men, 6-foot-8 Jack Lintz and 6-7 Chuck Gardner, putting extra pressure on its excellent group of outside shooters. Gardner has the best potential and is improving. Sophomore Pat Frink has a 14.4 average, his brother Mike 12.5 and 6-6 Norm Saunders 11.4.

K-State wiped out a 17-6 deficit with a full-court press and some hot shooting by Ron Paradis, who had 22 points. Larry Weigel came off the bench with 14. Kansas, with 6-11 Walt Wesley covered by a sagging zone defense, got a lift from Riney Lochmann, with 14, and Al Lopes with 17. Jim Gatewood had 21 for Oklahoma and Al Koch led Iowa State with 14.

May Lift Racial Barrier

Storm Clouds Gathering After Blue-Gray Contest

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

While a quartet of seniors on Georgia's Sun Bowl winners looked forward to bright futures in professional football, storm clouds lingered over the Blue-Gray all-star game at Montgomery, Ala.

Armchair quarterbacks, meanwhile, savored the prospect of a television marathon New Year's Day and Saturday, when six classics — Rose, Cotton, Orange, Sugar, Gator and East-West Shrine — will be beamed nationally.

Ray Rismiller, Jim Wilson, Frank Lankewicz and Wayne Swinford signed National Football League contracts last Saturday after leading the Bulldogs past Texas Tech 7-0 in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex.

The Philadelphia Eagles signed fullback Lankewicz, who scored the game's only touchdown on a two-yard plunge and 225-pound tackle Rismiller, their second-round draft choice. Wilson, a 245-pound tackle who spearheaded Georgia's tenacious defense in the Sun Bowl and was named the outstanding player in the game, and Swinford signed with the San Francisco 49ers.

Jim Zanios, Texas Tech's 210-pound fullback, agreed to terms with the Dallas Cowboys of the NFL.

At Montgomery, where Penn State quarterback Gary Wydmann passed the Blue stars to a 10-6 victory over the Gray in the rain, game officials — facing a loss of prestige because of their segregation stand — pondered a possible lifting of the racial barrier which has cost them a national television contract.

A Blue-Gray source said Sunday he believes the future of the 27-year fixture will be insured only if Negro gridders are invited to participate.

The National Broadcasting Co. discontinued its telecast of the game last year after officials refused to alter their racial policy.

Saturday's game, which drew a crowd of 16,000 and was televised regionally into six states on a special network, was a defensive battle decided by Wydmann's 30-yard scoring pass to Bill Cronin of Boston College in the third period.

The Orange Bowl pairing of Texas and Alabama, the 1963 and 1964 national champions, respectively, heads the New Year's bill and completes an NBC triple-header. The Miami attraction, to be played for the first time after dark, has an 8 p.m., EST, kickoff.

The Crimson Tide, unbeaten in 10 regular-season games, and the Longhorns, winners in nine of 10 starts, follow an afternoon card that matches Louisiana State, 7-2-1, and Syracuse, 7-3, in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans; Arkansas, 10-0, and Nebraska, 9-1, in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas and Michigan, 8-1, and Oregon State, 8-2, in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.

The Sugar and Rose classics will be aired by NBC, starting at 2 p.m., EST, and 5 p.m., EST, respectively. CBS will carry the Cotton Bowl scrap beginning at 2 p.m. EST.

Florida State, 8-1, meets Oklahoma, 6-3-1, in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., and the East and West All-Stars clash in the Shrine Bowl at San Francisco on Saturday. The FSU-Sonners game can be seen on ABC-TV, starting at 2 p.m., EST; the West Coast action, beginning at 5 p.m. EST, will be televised by NBC.

Drake romped over Northwestern 87-69 at Chicago Stadium behind Gene West's 32 points and Tulsa was nudged at home 74-72 by Florida State's last-second goal in other games Saturday. The Valley's 40-11 non-conference record includes 31-6 on Valley home courts.

This week's schedule will be a stiff test because only one home game is included — Massachusetts at Bradley tonight. North Texas plays at Hardin-Simmons tonight and at West Texas Tuesday and St. Louis faces Chicago Loyola at Chicago Stadium in other games.

Prestige Could Go Higher Yet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Missouri Valley conference basketball prestige, already soaring with 40 victories in 51 outside games, could go even higher this week with five Valley teams competing in tough holiday tournaments.

Meanwhile, the conference title race continues at a snail's pace. Only one league game was played last week but it was a big one for Louisville. The Cardinals got their first victory since joining the league and did it by beating Bradley 82-74 at Peoria, a feat Valley teams seldom have been able to accomplish in the past decade.

Second-ranked Wichita, St. Louis and Cincinnati all are 1-0 in league play and 6-1 for the season. Louisville stands 1-1 in the conference and 6-1 for all games. Drake 0-1 and 6-3, Bradley 0-2 and 6-2, North Texas, 5-3, and Tulsa, 3-3, have yet to play a conference game.

The race resumes this Saturday with Drake at St. Louis, opening the 10-game afternoon television series, and North Texas at Wichita.

Wichita ripped Pittsburgh 109-58 in the first round of the Quaker City tourney at Philadelphia with All America Dave Stallworth scoring 22 in part-time action. The Shockers meet Villanova and potent Illinois faces St. Joseph's in the semifinals tonight.

Cincinnati plays Temple tonight in the first round of the Holiday Festival tourney in New York's Madison Square Garden. St. John's and LaSalle are in the upper bracket with Cincy. Top-ranked Michigan is the best team in the lower bracket. A Cincy-Michigan final is possible.

St. Louis is in the Memphis State invitational with powerful Indiana, Memphis State and SMU, while Tulsa is in the Hurricane Classic at Miami, Fla., with Yale, Maryland and Miami, both tournaments starting tonight.

Six NAIA Records Are Broken

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Six NAIA football records were broken and one tied during the 1964 season by players from Southern Oregon, Ottawa, Kan., William Jewell, Mo., Upper Iowa, New Mexico Highlands, College of Emporia, Kan., and Kansas Wesleyan.

The final NAIA figures also showed Jim Van Gordon of Eau Claire, Wis., State winning the coveted total offense crown with 256.3 run-pass yards a game.

Jerry Bishop of Austin, Tex., was the passing champion with 249.5 yards a game. Winston Gray of Knoxville, Tenn., took the rushing crown with 122.1 a game. Herman Driver of Texas Southern led in pass receiving with 107.2 and the scoring champ was Allen Smith of Findlay, Ohio, with 108 points.

The six new records were set by Dan Miles, Southern Oregon's freshman quarterback with 747 pass completion percentage; Leonard Scheufler of Ottawa, with 15 touchdowns passes; Ray Ritchey of William Jewell, 29 consecutive extra points; Larry Nemmers of Upper Iowa, four pass interceptions in one game; John Williams to William Carter on a 99-yard pass play for New Mexico Highlands against Colorado State; and Bill Swartz, College of Emporia, 135 career extra points.

Dee Kolsow of Kansas Wesleyan tied a record with a 98-yard run from scrimmage against Sterling, Kan. Swartz also booted four field goals for a career total of nine, one short of the record. He's a 250-pound tackle.

Bishop was the total offense runner-up with a 239.1 average. Bob Ferguson of Westmar, Iowa, averaged 118.2 yds. rushing for the No. 2 spot. Gary Stauffer of Baker, Kan., was a close second with 102 points and Scheufler was a touchdown behind in third place at 96.

Van Gordon was the runner-up in passing at 216.6 a game. Third at 193.7 was Ed Buzzell, Ottawa, whose 24 T.D. pass led the NAIA.

Jerome Bell, Central Oklahoma State, took the punting title on a 45.5 average.

East Central Oklahoma was the team total offense champion at 438.7 yards a game and won the rushing crown with 309.2. Austin took the passing crown at 249.7. In total offense, Upper Iowa was second with 412. Southern Oregon had 407.3, College of Emporia 386.6 and Ottawa 385.3. In rushing Arizona State College was runner-up at 309.2. Wayne, Neb., had 285.6, Southwest Texas 281.3 and Upper Iowa 278.6. Eau Claire was No. 2 in passing with 225.2. Southern Oregon had 223.3, Tennessee State 201 and Waynesburg, Pa., 196.8.

The total defense team crown went to Allen, S.C., permitting 124.1, with Kutztown, Pa., at 129.6, Elizabeth City, N.C., 129.8

Finley Is Dropping Lawsuit

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Charles O. Finley says he is dropping his lawsuit over a stadium lease and definitely plans to keep his American League baseball franchise in Kansas City at least three more years.

Finley came to town to meet with the city council and seek co-operation in selling season tickets.

There has been some reluctance among civic leaders to promote the Kansas City Athletics while Finley was taking legal action against the city.

The lawsuit sought to reinstate a stadium lease that was signed by the previous city council. That lease would permit Finley to move the ball club if attendance fell below 850,000 in a season.

The present city council declared that lease invalid and signed another that has no escape clause. It runs three more years.

Finley, in making his announcement about the lawsuit Sunday night, called for support from the city council, Chamber of Commerce and fans.

"If the support is forthcoming," he said, "there is no reason why the Athletics cannot stay in Kansas City indefinitely."

Mayor Ilus W. Davis received the announcement with enthusiasm.

"I am quite pleased that he decided to drop the suit," the mayor said. "I think it makes our efforts at co-operation much easier."

and Fort Valley, Ga., 134.6. Fort Valley was the rushing defense titlist with 39.6, Central Iowa had 41.7, Elizabeth City 42.8, Albany, Ga., 43.2 and Westminster 50.6. West Virginia Tech's 33 yards a game passing allowance was best, Western Montana gave up 35.6, Ashland, Ohio 48.2, Kutztown 50.4 and Huron, S.D. 52.0.

Warrensburg, Now Favored in Race on Strength of Its Tournament Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Warrensburg, now favored in the race on the strength of its tournament title, is the only other MIAA team to play this week. The Mules travel to Pittsburg, Kan., for a nonconference game Saturday night. With their tournament triumph championship the Mules have an 8-1 record. They defeated Springfield 73-70 in the finals.

Six other Missouri teams are in action this week, and most of the games will be in holiday tournaments.

The schedule:
William Jewell, Top of the Nation tournament Monday through Wednesday in Alamogosa, Colo.; Rockhurst, Quincy, Ill., tournament Monday through Wednesday; Lincoln, Paul Bunyan tournament at Bemidji, Minn., Tuesday and Wednesday; Graceland, Nebraska Wesleyan tournament in Lincoln, Neb., Tuesday and Wednesday; Graceland and Tarkio, Independence, Mo., holiday tournament Friday and Saturday.

Cape Opens Its Title Defense

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cape Girardeau State opens defense of its MIAA crown Saturday night, highlighting Missouri college basketball this week.

The Indians, who placed sixth in last week's league tournament at Rolla, open conference play at Maryville, which finished eighth in the tournament. It is the only league game of the night.

Celtics Add Another Full Game to Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Even the Boston Celtics like to get some help now and then. Baltimore has been most obliging.

The Bullets obliged again Sunday night, knocking off Cincinnati 126-119. And the Celtics added another full game to their Eastern Division lead in their methodical march toward a seventh straight National Basketball Association title.

The mighty Celtics wiped out an 18-point deficit at Fort Wayne, Ind., and edged Detroit 112-106, extending their Eastern Division lead to six games over Cincinnati. St. Louis rallied for a 99-89 decision over the Knicks in New York in the only other game played Sunday.

Boston's victory was its sixth without loss against Detroit this season and the Celtics' 11th in the last 12 games.

Arnold Toynbee Speaks

Sees Prospect Red Chinese Could Gain Dominance

EDITOR'S NOTE — He is keen on the Peace Corps, he believes the individual does count, and American election campaigns are too long. Arnold Toynbee, the historian, also delivers pungent opinions on the world's problems and leaders.

By LOUDON KELLY DENVER, Colo. — "The prospect of Red China's domination of the world, in time, is good if relations continue bad between this country and Russia."

It is Arnold Toynbee speaking, a shy smile flitting across his face as he talks. The eminent British historian, nearly 76 but looking younger, is relaxed in slacks and house slippers as the pronouncements fall, one by one.

Charles DeGaulle is "a very annoying man," in some respects "almost childish."

Lyndon B. Johnson is a master politician, with the chance for a significant place in history.

On Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser — "I myself rather like and admire him."

And all the while, the blue, clear eyes close almost tight under hooded lids.

Dr. Toynbee came here in September as visiting professor in history at the University of Denver, and lives in an apartment near the campus.

With quick interest — almost before an interviewer can finish his question — Toynbee leans into his answer with "yes, yes, yes," and a peppering of, "Isn't it?" and, "Don't you think?"

"China by the year 2000 should be able to match the technology of, say, Japan," he said. "The Chinese have a world state viewpoint in their tradition."

"In the years between 1840 and 1945 one country or another has taken bites out of China. That's why China is so grim. When they recover their frontiers, China may calm down, I think."

"China has been colonizing for 2,500 years. They intermarry with others, make them Chinese. That is going to continue. Southeast Asia will become Chinese, much of Siberia will become Chinese. If one were a Russian these days, he would have to be alarmed by what the Chinese are going to do."

Dr. Toynbee is convinced that "nations in Southeast Asia are fed up with Western domination."

"The Vietnamese want to be reunited, whether it's with Communist or capitalist blessing," he says. "If any other country but the United States had gone into South Viet Nam, the United States would have been highly critical. How you will get out is another question. If your country attacks North Viet Nam or Cambodia, the Chinese would intervene and might reopen the frontier in Korea."

"The United States did not think any effort to neutralize Viet Nam was a good enough policy. With Red China in the background, it is late in the day for Western countries to dominate many parts of Asia or Africa. The United States is traditionally against such domination."

"What are the real aims behind Johnson's political maneuvering? I believe he will succeed in carrying out Kennedy's policies because of this gift of his for the business of politics. A question for the future is whether Johnson is a statesman as well as a politician. He might make himself a big place in history."

Dr. Toynbee regards the Middle East as an area of growing importance.

"Nasser has been tactless in his dealings with other Arab leaders, but he is the first ruler to do anything for the Egyptian peasant. The pyramids were built for the rulers of Egypt, but the Aswan Dam for the good of the people. Nasser will continue to be a big force in the Arab world. I myself rather like and admire him. I've noticed quite a prejudice against Nasser in this country. Americans seem to

Dr. Toynbee, author of the monumental 12-volume "A Study of History," believes Soviet-American relations "will determine the unification of Germany."

"Neither Russia nor the United States seems willing to take the risks necessary to do this," he said. "They need to learn to trust each other. Red China's mood will be a possible key to reunifying Germany."

The historian, dark jacket and blue tie setting off his white hair confesses the downfall of Nikita S. Khrushchev surprised him.

"My guess is that the people who have followed him will carry out much the same policies," he said. "There is not much hope, do you think, of any mending of the rift between Russia and Red China, under the conditions Peking has laid down? The Russians do not want war. They are strong for coexistence."

As Toynbee sees him, French President De Gaulle "is a curious mixture, almost a great man and yet almost childish in his trying to blow up France to the proportions of the United States or Russia."

"France is doing a fine job in economic recovery. Most of the French, I think, are more interested in this than in De Gaulle's military grandeur. As long as he is in power, he will be a nuisance, a serious one. France is not a disciplined country and French power will be relatively less after De Gaulle goes."

"When that happens, Britain may get into the Common Market. Western Europe would then be better balanced. Other countries don't like French efforts to dominate Western Europe. For West Germany to accept French leadership is too much to ask."

He believes a U.S. presidential campaign "like the recent one takes too much of a country's energy. I thought it was fantastic the way a candidate has to behave. The issues could be threshed out in a much shorter time."

"President Johnson, Toynbee said, "has immense ability as a politician. He is sensitive to what others think and feel. He knows how to get along with Congress. Kennedy was not much in sympathy with Congress, do you think?"

"What are the real aims behind Johnson's political maneuvering? I believe he will succeed in carrying out Kennedy's policies because of this gift of his for the business of politics. A question for the future is whether Johnson is a statesman as well as a politician. He might make himself a big place in history."

West Germany Reviewing Its Aid to African Nations

By JOHN FEIHN BONN, Germany (AP) —

With millions of marks wasted, West Germany is taking a hard look at its help for new countries in Africa. It plans to concentrate on major development projects.

Walter Scheel, head of the Ministry for Economic Development, says the government will emphasize economic aspects of development plans and deemphasize political aspects. Foreign Ministry officials privately admit that West Germany frequently has approved financial aid for African states in fear that Communist-ruled East Germany might come up with similar aid, tempting the receiving country to recognize the East Berlin government.

assume he is a dictator, a bad man. I don't agree with that."

"There are rather few countries capable of being democratic," he says. "This is one of the serious things wrong with the world. India has shown the ability to work democracy out. They seem to have honest elections and this is important to the practice of democracy in our meaning of the word. They deserve our support."

Asked if he thinks college students show more interest in international problems than did their parents, Dr. Toynbee said, "Yes, and that's a hopeful sign."

"The Peace Corps is another thing I'm very keen over," he said. "I have seen them at work in Ethiopia, Nigeria and elsewhere in Africa, teaching English in the schools and so on. The knowledge and experience gained by your Peace Corps young people will be valuable to the United States in the future. This is important, isn't it?"

What can the individual do to help to bring a future of peace and order?

"If every citizen gets caught in the wheel, we will all shuffle off into the hands of dictators," Dr. Toynbee replied. "It would be very serious if we had no democratic controls. I thought the size of the vote in your presidential election was an encouraging sign. It is hard to say how one can go about it as an individual, but every individual does count. He has a moral duty to assert himself."

Since 1960, when the West Germans started to tackle the development aid problem on a big scale, the government has earmarked or actually shelled out a total of $3 billion.

A tenth of this went to Africa or is about to be handed to the Africans in the form of outright money gifts or long-term loans at low interest.

German money has been scattered among 383 projects in 30 African states.

Too little for too many projects, critics of West Germany's development aid to Africa are saying. A spokesman for Scheel's ministry said a recent roundup by the magazine Der Spiegel correctly reflected the situation. This said German financial aid to Africa was frequently misappropriated and often invested in nonsense projects.

In Cameroon, $6.25 million was earmarked to build a 120-mile highway that will be flooded during the rainy season and thus rendered unusable for months. About $250,000 is needed each year to repair it.

German engineers are building a harbor for Togo at Lome costing $13 million to replace ancient port facilities. Spiegel found that last year a total of only 377 cargo ships called at Lome where some 156,000 tons of cargo were handled. That amounted to just about all of Togo's foreign trade.

West Germany has promised Ghana a bridge over the Volta River. This would lead to Togo, which is at loggerheads with Ghana and has closed its borders to that state.

These misuses of German marks in Africa show that the government has had poor advice on how to invest its development aid, said Spiegel.

Scheel now feels the time has come to invest the mark more economically. He says: "Requests for development aid will be more carefully scrutinized in future. We will send experts to the scene and check whether the African nation's proposal for investing our money is economically sound."

Tony Curtis Unpopular With Women

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Gee, you'd think they'd let me know about it," said Tony Curtis of his election as most uncooperative male star by the Hollywood Women's Press Club. "The first thing I knew of it was when I read the news in the paper."

Tony was dealt the club's Sour Apple award, along with Doris Day — most cooperative stars: Donna Reed, Lorne Greene. The Bronx lad's reaction was a mixture of surprise, bewilderment and faint amusement.

"The girls gave me the Golden Apple twice for most cooperative star," he reflected. "Now the Sour Apple. You gotta say this: I'm versatile."

What happened to turn Tony from sweetheart of the press ladies to pin-up boy on their dart boards?

"When I first started in this business, I did everything they told me to," he said. "Look — it was great for me. I was a young punk who almost got arrested for loitering by hanging around on street corners in the Bronx. I didn't have the stuff to come through as an actor, so it was the best thing for me to have all that publicity exposure."

"I went to the beach and did layouts in my bathing suit, on yachts, with my dog. I was a big star — in the magazines."

But publicity isn't everything — if it were, Jayne Mansfield and Zsa Zsa Gabor would be the biggest stars in Hollywood. Tony realized he'd have to produce on the screen, as well as in the gossip columns, and he devoted himself to that end.

His film fortunes improved immensely and he became one of Hollywood's big-money stars. Still he played the publicity game — until his divorce from Janet Leigh.

"That's when some of the fan magazines started getting very naughty," Tony said. "They started printing stories that hurt not only me but my daughters and my wife (Christine Kaufmann)."

"That's when I decided no more of that jazz. I used to wear my heart on my sleeve, but I won't do it any more. I do my job at the studio the best I can. The other part of my life is my own property now. I'm not going to let them come into my home."

Tony emphasized that his relations with the general press remain cordial and the "uncooperative" tag does not extend to his attitude toward his fellow workers. It's the fan mag writers who find him unhelpful, he said, and that's how it will remain.

"Right now I'm coaching Jack Lemmon in how to win the Sour Apple next year," he added in a lighter tone. "In fact I'm working up a set of rules that would make him a sure winner."

Water Heater Blast Kills Father of 5

COLLINSVILLE, Ill. (AP) — An electric hot water heater explosion blew out one side of a frame house Sunday and killed a father of five as he slept.

The body of Earl Wolff, 56, apparently shielded his wife and their foster son, John Mathis, 2, who was sleeping between them.

The baby was admitted to St. Mary's hospital in East St. Louis with minor burns. Mrs. Wolff escaped injury as did two of her sons, who were in the house at the time.

Police said one of the sons told them the safety valve on the heater in the bathroom had been welded closed.

There was no fire.

Resume Classes Jan. 4 Despite Serious Blaze

POINT LOOKOUT, Mo. (AP) —Classes will resume Jan. 4 at the School of the Ozarks despite a fire that destroyed the main building Saturday night.

M. Graham Clark, school president, said chapel and dormitory space will be used for classrooms.

Planning for a new building began immediately at a meeting of the advisory council which lasted from midnight until dawn Sunday.

Clark estimated the replacement will cost $400,000 for construction and $100,000 for equipment. The school will have $200,000 from insurance on the old building with which to start the project, he said.

Also, Clark said, the U.S. Navy promised to replace $300,000 worth of electronic equipment used by a naval reserve unit that was based in the old building.

The fire destroyed three of the four wings of the structure that contained 14 classrooms, faculty offices, auditorium, gymnasium, barber shop, commissary and student union, in addition to the naval reserve.

All but about 30 of the 700 students had gone home for Christmas. Some boys were playing basketball in the basement gym and smelled smoke, then discovered the fire in a second-floor classroom. Cause of the blaze was not determined.

All alumni records were lost, Clark said.

A fire wall helped firemen save one wing, formerly used as a chapel.

The building was donated to the college by the late A.P. Green of Mexico, Mo. Construction started in 1926 and the building was occupied in 1928.

Students work their way through school, earning their board and room and tuition. Formerly a two-year college, the school will acquire four-year status in the spring of 1966.

FOR THE NEEDY—Members of the B.P.O. Elks who filled and delivered 110 baskets to needy families Christmas Eve morning are shown just before they started making the deliveries. Ned Lindstrom was in charge of the project. Sylvania

Electronics of Whiteman AFB provided the trucks for transportation and men drivers to take the baskets around town to the various homes. (Democrat-Capital photo)

U.S. TAXES—Since 1927, there has been a 1,286 per cent jump in the amount of taxes paid by Americans to federal, state and local authorities. The figure for 1963 is astronomical: $130 billion. According to this chart, based on data from the National Industrial Conference, the federal government is the most important collector, though its percentage of the total has dropped recently.

The Business World

Rush In Stores Still On With Big Price Discounts

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Many stores will be as crowded today as last week. Many will keep their extra clerks over for a few more days to handle the throngs bent on exchanging or returning Christmas presents.

Merchants also are preparing for upcoming clearance sales with more items added to the list, while others will have bigger price discounts this time than last.

Some stores have tighter rules than formerly about exchanging those gifts that aren't quite right. They're making sure the goods were really bought where the exchange is sought.

Most take the rush in stride. They put up with the unprofitable business of exchanges, hoping that many of those coming in to get a more wearable necktie will be leaving with some extra merchandiser. That is known as impulse buying generated by traffic through store aisles.

The big volume of December sales probably has left less distressed merchandise on hand than usual. But a number of merchants already have laid plans for bigger than normal clearance sales. Some items will be marked down more than last year. Often the weather calls the tune. Where there was merchants will be aiming at the bargain hunters.

And a few will admit privately that some of the goods to be put on sale at hopeful attractive prices in the days and weeks ahead were bought for that purpose and weren't part of the stock displayed on the counters in December.

Retailers also are counting on sales in the first few months of 1965 topping this year's figures by about 5 per cent. With overhead fairly steady, that could bring them a 10 per cent increase in profits.

But today the major business is exchanges.

crowding the stores will be those who got gift garments of the wrong size or in colors they loathe or objects they couldn't possibly use. Some will be re-turning gifts and asking for credit against future purchases. Others will be turning gift certificates into goods — in some stores they'll get what's left over in cash, in others they'll be given credit.

Synanon Is Name

Group Which Aids Addicts Opening a St. Louis House

By BOB POOS
Associated Press Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An organization peppered with former underworld figures and with a name coined by a be-fuddled dope addict has opened a Midwest headquarters in St. Louis and is attracting junkies with promises of help.

"We hope to take 1,000 narcotics users out of the St. Louis area alone before too long," says Frank Lago, 34, a former dope user and procurer who is a zealous field worker for Synanon. The organization works at curing drug addicts much like Alcoholics Anonymous aids drinkers.

"I literally crawled to Synanon on my hands and knees, weeping," says Mrs. Connie Clark, 27-year-old fashion model and off-Broadway actress. "That was two and a half years ago. My arms were a mass of needle marks and I was covered with cigarette burns—dirty and ill-kempt. I was a mess."

"It's something that works," says Charles Dederich, 50-year-old founder of Synanon. "We've got the largest number of abstaining dope addicts in the world."

"Synanon Houses" are located in California, Nevada and Connecticut — near New York City. In these centers, drug addicts who have kicked their habit through a sort of group therapy aid others in doing so.

The word "Synanon" means nothing; it was coined by a dazed drug addict.

Although no Synanon House is planned immediately for St. Louis—the $200,000 yearly operating cost is prohibitive — the headquarters here will shuttle Midwest addicts to other houses for treatment.

"We'll be offering immediate help to junkies in the St. Louis area who want it," says Lago, who served four terms in Federal prisons on narcotics convictions. "We'll see that they get to one of our houses."

St. Louis police files show about 700 heavy narcotics users in the area, and officers believe as many as 2,000 others are addicted to some degree.

"There are probably closer to 10,000 people in this part of the country on the stuff," Lago says.

Drug addiction is far more difficult to escape than alcoholism, so the Synanon people live together while undergoing treatment.

Dope is withdrawn immediately, there is no medical treatment and the Synanon method has three stages.

"First," says Lago, "a guy or gal really has to want to kick the habit. We make sure of that. Then we give them some Mickey Mouse job—like sweeping, mopping or washing dishes."

"Pretty soon — usually after two, no more than four days—the user has gone through withdrawal symptoms and begins to adjust to his surroundings. 'Cold turkey' withdrawal elsewhere takes weeks."

"Later, the one-time addict gets a job on the outside but continues to live in our centers. We make certain they get no dope."

The final stage, Lago says, sends the narcotics user out into the world to cope with the problems that caused him to go on drugs.

The addict initially is taken as far as possible from his former surroundings, mainly because he knows the easy way to get dope there.

Synanon claims almost 50 per cent success in its re-habilitation program. This compares with 3 per cent record at the Federal Hospital for Drug Addicts in Lexington, Ky.

"Lexington costs the government about $35 a day per person," says Stan Burney, Synanon's national director. "The cost at Synanon houses is only $3 a day—less than one-tenth the government's cost."

Synanon really works, says Mrs. Clark, who married another addict in one of the organization's West Coast houses.

"I believe Synanon has literally saved my life," she says. "I'd be dead by now, one way or the other, if I hadn't gone there for help."

The group has a unit at the Nevada state penitentiary and Synanon people say this has been one of their most successful experiments.

"We'd like to see the same thing started in other penitentiaries," says Lago.

Dederich started the organization in 1958 at Santa Monica, Calif.

"I was an alcoholic, not a dope addict," Dederich says. "We feel a drug addict is a child and must learn to grow up. As he grows up in Synanon, he is given more responsibilities—and a new life."

Trade Blows
When Singer
Draws Boos

PARMA, Italy (AP) — American baritone Cornell MacNeil and the superintendent of Italy's Parma Opera House have agreed that MacNeil will never sing there again.

The two came to blows after the opera star stormed off the stage Saturday night and forced cancellation of the season's opener at Parma's Regio Theater.

The Parma audience, which has made the city known as the "lions' pit" of opera, had heckled MacNeil and his Italian costars, tenor Flaviano Labo and soprano Luisa Maragliano, through the first two acts of Verdi's "Masked Ball."

Said MacNeil: "If Parma wants to hear good singing, the spectators must learn to behave. I will never sing again at the Regio Theater."

Said Giuseppe Negri, the superintendent of the opera house: "MacNeil will never again be allowed to set foot in the theater as long as I am its director."

MacNeil, 42, one of America's leading operatic baritones, became infuriated when a burst of catcalls stopped him and the orchestra at the beginning of his third-act aria.

"Creitini! Idiots!" he shouted and stalked off the stage.

The fans set out after the American. For 15 minutes police struggled with the angry, shouting crowd that jammed the narrow corridor outside the singer's dressing room. The police finally escorted MacNeil to his hotel but not before he and Negri tangled inside the dressing room.

"I got to MacNeil's dressing room a second before a crowd of spectators had forced their way there, to plead with the singer to return to the stage, offer apologies to the public and continue the performance," Negri said.

"He refused. He argued. Then the baritone, in a fit of temper, hit me with closed fists on the face and arm, although slightly."

MacNeil gave a different version.

"Negri barged into my dressing room, insulting me. He actually punched me once in the stomach and kicked me twice in the shins, as my son tried to hold him and push him out of the room."

102nd Birthday
For Busy Woman

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A busy lady named Mary Hendry Hardesty planned to take time out today to observe her birthday, her 102nd.

In addition to preparing her own meals and doing housework Mrs. Hardesty is landlady to several roomers at her home.

the disease from one plant to another.

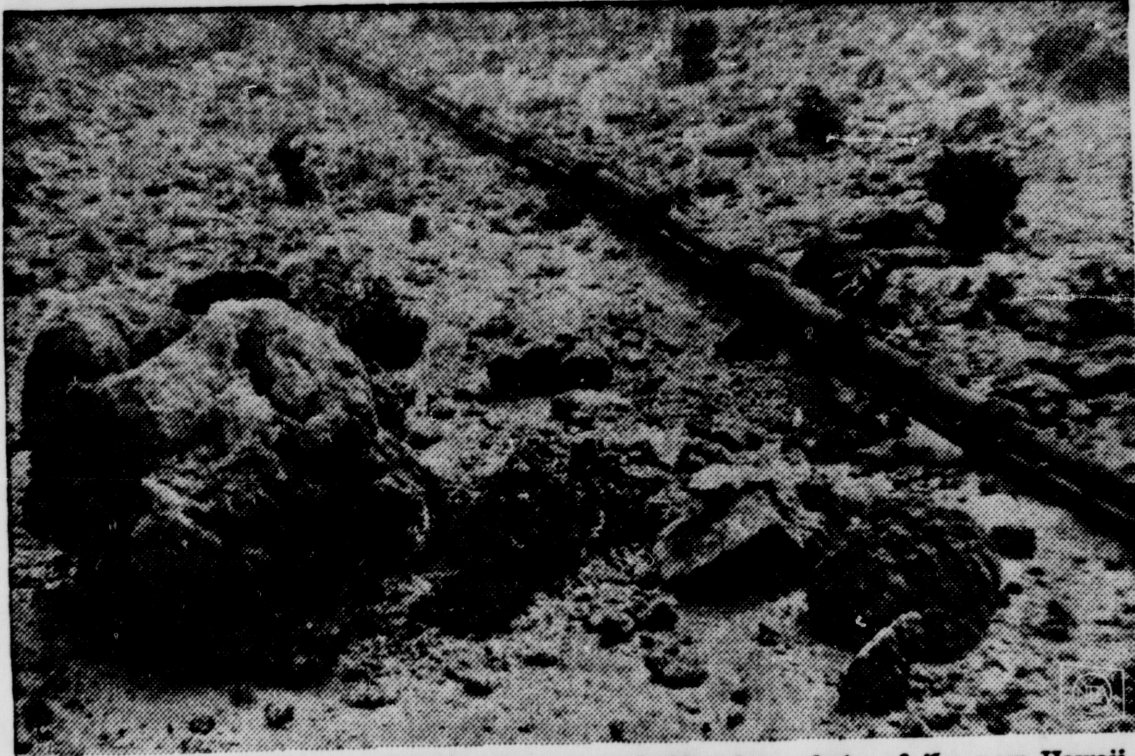

Scientists here had already established that the state is best with a stunting disease of corn. They have been working to determine whether or not it is the corn stunt virus or dwarf mosaic.

The two diseases produce similar disastrous results when corn becomes infected. Plants are dwarfed or stunted, ears fail to develop properly, and yields suffer. Economic loss ranges from slight to 100 per cent, depending on the severity of infection with in a field.

The Missouri group points out that although the two diseases appear similar, and are similarly destructive, they have important differences.

These differences present a difficult problem for plant breeders. The difficulty lies in the fact that a corn variety bred to resist one disease, may be susceptible to the other.

Although there are no immediate answers to how these corn diseases can be controlled or eliminated, corn producers can take heart in the fact that the problem is the subject of intensified research.

CABLE GETS "SUIT" OF ARMOR—This remarkably clear photo of the new Hawaii-Japan telephone cable was taken off the shore of Wake Island by a team of skin divers sent down to check its position. Because it lies amid jagged coral, they enclosed part of it in protective pipe. The inshore section has a wrapping of tough steel wires and, as an extra safeguard against the strong wave action of shallow waters, the divers covered the cable with flexible pipe as seen above.

Over Half of People

Reds Claim Three-Fourths
Of Viet Nam Their Holding

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Leaders of the rebel Viet Cong claim the guerrillas fighting the government of South Viet Nam control three-fourths of the country and more than half the people as the year nears an end.

Chairman Nguyen Huu Tho made the claim in a statement to the ruling Politburo of the Viet Cong Central Committee. The statement would be difficult to challenge.

He added that the balance of forces was shifting in favor of the Viet Cong, and this, too, coincides with available information on the Saigon side.

On Dec. 20, 1960, when the Viet Cong formally organized itself, the guerrillas had at most 2,000 men under arms, opposing national armed forces of some 400,000. Today, Viet Cong strength is estimated at around 120,000 against a government force of some 615,000 men under arms, including police. Although the government still holds the numerical edge, its ratio is worse.

Each time during the past four years that the government has sought to wipe out the guerrillas in some given area, Saigon has bitten off more than it could chew. The mobility provided U.S. troop-carrying helicopters has helped, but not enough.

Saigon and its Washington ally spent tens of millions of dollars in 1962 on a project called "Operation Sunrise," aimed at cleaning out a key Viet Cong base area 30 miles north of here.

The operation was a nearly complete failure, and the Viet Cong now is stronger in the area than ever.

Later in 1962 and 1963, the government and U.S. advisers launched the nationwide "strategic hamlet program," aimed at bringing one community after another under government control.

Until President Ngo Dinh Diem was overthrown in a military coup Nov. 1, 1963, the statistics from this program looked encouraging. But U.S. officials found at that point that only a very small fraction of the hamlets supposedly pacified were really in operation.

Then came Premier Nguyen Khanh's "pacification plan" in February. It concentrated on only 13 provinces in the Mekong River Delta. But even this concentration proved inadequate.

Three months ago, the area was whittled down to five provinces, all suburbs of Saigon, to be pacified under the "Hoc Tap" — cooperation — plan. To help out, most of the 25th Division was pulled out of central Viet Nam for service in the Hoc Tap area.

Since then, central Viet Nam — roughly the northern half of the republic — has deteriorated

Dies 4 Days Later
From Gunshot Wound

FLORA, Ill. (AP) — Robert Forbush, 18, of Hillsboro, Mo., died Sunday, four days after he shot himself when police stopped him in a stolen car.

Forbush, who had remained unconscious in the Clay County Hospital in Flora since the shooting, had not been identified until Saturday when his parents read news reports of the incident.

Illinois state police had stopped Forbush Wednesday near Clay City. They said he got out of the car, put a pistol to his head and fired.

The car had been stolen from Larry Howard of Effingham, Ill., who said Forbush took his wallet and car after Howard had given him a ride.

Concludes Wives Are Slow In Thawing Frozen Meals

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might not know if he didn't open his mail:
Someone has discovered — or at least claimed — that the average U.S. housewife spends 2,188 hours yearly in the kitchen. Whereas her husband, if he worked a 40-hour week, 52 weeks without vacation, would spend only 2,080 hours on the job. The only conclusion is that it is taking women longer and longer to thaw out those appetizing dinners.
And if someone gave you a million dollars in one dollar bills, what is the first thing you'd do? Count it, of course.

And how long would it take you? Well, on a 40-hour week basis, it would take you seven weeks to find out how rich you were.
Russians spend half their earned income on food. Americans spend only 19 per cent — and are still too fat.
Here is a surprising fact that may have escaped your attention: Greek writing originally went from right to left, later one line went from left to right and the next from right to left, but after about 500 B.C. all lines went from left to right.
Quotable notables: "Life is a fortress," said Napoleon Bonaparte. Seneca, the Roman seer, said existence was "a state of warfare," and E. B. White described life as "a sentence that begins and ends with a yawn." The Bible says life is "a vapor that appeareth for a little time then vanisheth away," and Irving Berlin put it this way, "It is 10 per cent how you make it, and 90 per cent how you take it."

Every 1 1/2 minutes by day and by night somebody somewhere in the United States steals an automobile. And have you also brooded over the fact that in our country we have only one cow for every nine Americans?
What do you think is the most effective tool ever devised by the kindness of Mother Nature?

Why, of course, it is the human hand. A runner-up is the elephant's sensitive trunk, which contains 40 thousand muscles.
History lesson: Can you name the first U.S. president born outside the borders of the first 13 states that made our original Union? He was Abraham Lincoln, born in an area known then, and now, as Kentucky.
Odd legislation: Word has reached me that you can be arrested in Ohio if you seek to cool your feet by sticking them out of the window of a moving automobile.
Folklore: Only a poor man keeps one dog — a really poor man keeps at least two. Idiots are favored by God. A horsehair put in water will fester into a snake in six weeks. If you meet a barefoot woman as you start on trip, turn back immediately or she will bring bad luck to your journey.

You are an unusual fellow if you can name seven forms of mammal life that chew their cuds. These are potential answers: cows, deer, sheep, employees, goats, giraffes and antelopes.
It was Helen Hayes who remarked, "There is only one terminal dignity — love. And the story of love is not important. What is important is that one is capable of love. It is perhaps the only glimpse we are permitted of eternity."

3 Killed, 7 Hurt In Illinois Crash
BRACEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Three people were killed and seven others — including six children in one family — were injured Sunday in a collision on interstate 55 between Braceville and Grundy County.
The driver of one car, Charles Hunt, 41, of Joliet, Ill., was killed.
The two persons in the other car also were killed. They were Helen A. Gangelhoff of St. Louis, the driver, and Judith Antonicki of Brown Deer, Wis. Hunt's wife, Jacqueline, about 40, and their six children were injured, two of them critically.

Husband Shoots Wife While She Is Asleep
KANSAS CITY (AP) — A mother of three was shot to death in her bed Sunday night and police said her husband admitted shooting her.
Mrs. Phyllis Love, 31, was shot at least four times at close range.
The husband, James Edward Love, 34, telephoned police and said he had shot his wife, police reported. He was held for investigation.
Two of the children, Diana, 7, and Daniel, 5, were asleep in another bedroom and were not awakened by the shooting and the investigation. A daughter, Deborah, 11, was with her grandmother in Lawrence, Kan. Love works for a window shade company. Police said he was suffering from shock and was incoherent after the shooting.

Parents Are Organizing..

Everybody, it seems, is organized or organizing but parents, who are strangely content to go it alone, one by one or pair by pair.

The result is that fathers and mothers are sitting ducks for the pressures applied by their sons and daughters — most of whom believe or profess to believe that they are unduly and even cruelly restricted in their pursuit of life, liberty and happiness.

The theme song of teen-agers the country over is, "Jim's dad lets him have the car" or "Jane's mother lets her..."

The mystery is why more dads of Jims and mothers of Janes don't check signals with dads of Joes and mothers of Jills and come up with some kind of organized rebuttal to youthful protests and pressures which range from anguished wails to mild blackmail.

There are indications that some such trend is under way. In Warwick, R.I., for example, beleaguered parents have joined in formulating a teen-age behavior code based on more than 4,000 answers to a communitywide questionnaire.

The code is aimed at alleviating the traditional parental fear that children will be "left out" if they are refused permission to engage in questionable activities that "everybody else does, why can't I?"

The code covers such perennial parental-progeny problems as driving, dating, dress and curfews.

And in the nation's capital, the newly formed Parents' Council of Washington—endorsed by 17 leading private schools in the area—has drawn up a code of social conduct for youngsters of high school age. It bans serving of alcoholic beverages at teen-age parties, condemns party crashing, urges that teen-age social activities be confined to weekends and holidays, and fixes definite curfews.

These simple and logical moves offer definite hope that parents may be moving in on the wave of undisciplined juvenile behavior that has included crime, violence, brutality and open defiance of law and order.

Since the vast majority of teen-agers are fine youngsters, it is probable that many of them not only will accept but even welcome more firm direction from their parents.

As for the others, it's better that they be cooled off by parents than by law enforcement officers. Much, much better.

Science - Common Bond

At the same time as Egyptian jets were shooting down an American oil company plane, Egyptian and American scientists were co-operating in measuring the moon's temperature during a lunar eclipse.

While their government takes economic assistance from the United States in one hand and encourages the senseless destruction of a valuable American library with the other, the scientists of Egypt have given another demonstration of the truth that the quest for knowledge removes some men far above the petty barbarisms and ambitions of other men who call themselves leaders.

Perhaps human government will become a science someday, too.

WASHINGTON—Here are the travel logs and military privileges of the soldier-solons who have been bellyaching over Secretary of Defense McNamara's order to abolish the Army ready reserves and crack down on overseas junkets.

The most outraged roar came from Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., who doubles as a major general in the Army reserves and marches through capitol corridors as if leading an invisible parade.

It happens that Sen. Thurmond is the Senate's most outspoken champion of states' rights. It was states' rights, he declared last September, that persuaded him to desert the Democratic party and enlist in the campaign of his fellow major general in the reserves, Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Yet this month Thurmond came out against states' rights when they threatened his own military standing and travel privileges. McNamara's action would take Army reservists out of federal control and put them in the National Guard under state control. Thurmond called this "presumptuous."

Real reason he is opposed to states' rights in this case is that it would disband his own reserve unit in the Senate of which he is the commanding officer.

Two Junkets a Year

This column has reported from time to time on the junketing of Sen. Thurmond's reserve unit. Its members have followed a pattern of serving their active duty by inspecting world pleasure spots, enduring the rigors of such outposts as Paris, Rome, and Hong Kong. Usually Thurmond organizes two trips each year, so his Capitol Hill "troops" can take their choice of Europe or Asia.

He chose Madrid, Rome, and Casablanca for his own active duty this year, and left the weekend immediately after the election. It was his second junket of the year. Before the election, he had flown to Stockholm at the taxpayers' expense. Thus he spent three weeks in Sweden during August, another three weeks touring the Mediterranean during November.

Thurmond's record as a two-junket-a-year man dates back to 1962 when he took off for three weeks of "active duty" in Europe and the Middle East within a week after returning from a jaunt in Mexico. The taxpayers paid for both trips.

Thurmond is now a Republican. Sen. Ralph Yarborough of Texas is a staunch Democrat. They agree on hardly anything. And Yarborough, a reserve colonel, has been wary of his commanding officer ever since Maj. Gen. Thurmond wrestled him to the floor in a Senate corridor earlier this year.

But there is one point on which these two solons do definitely agree. Both are opposed to McNamara's plan to abolish the reserves and reserve junkets.

While Thurmond was leading an expedition to the Mediterranean this fall, Yarborough took command of an expedition to the Far East. He got back on December 13, just in time to blast McNamara for trying to break up their cozy Capitol Hill corps. Yarborough indignantly called McNamara's order "a departure away from the long-accepted status of the citizen soldier."

Junketing Republicans

Congressman Clark MacGregor, R-Minn., a reserve army major, got off the same plane from the Far East in an even more intemperate mood. With righteous rage he called McNamara's action "typically arbitrary" and told how the suffering reservists had spent one day of their junket "in 15-below weather in Alaska watching our ski troops in training."

MacGregor didn't mention that he had spent many more days in more pleasant climes. Altogether, he has managed to squeeze in three overseas junkets this year.

On March 26, MacGregor took off for two weeks of "active duty" in Europe. He went back again, Nov. 5 to 15, for Air Force briefings in Spain and Germany. He had hardly got home before he headed in the opposite direction November 28 for more "active duty" in the Far East.

Still another bitter blast at McNamara came from Congressman Edward Deswinski, R-Ill., a reserve army major, who also turns out to be a two-junket-a-year man.

He accompanied Thurmond to Sweden in August, joined up with him again in the Mediterranean during November. Last year, Deswinski spent March in Mexico, September in Europe.

It is no wonder these Capitol Hill reservists don't like McNamara's order, which will end their happy holidays at the taxpayers' expense.

Note: One Army reservist on Capitol Hill who puts patriotism ahead of his own privileges is Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho. A reserve major, Church commended McNamara for his "courage and wisdom in merging the Army reserve with the National Guard," a decision Church felt would result in "a saving of money for the taxpayer" and an increase in "the efficiency of our military forces."

"Although you will receive much unwarranted criticism for this decision," the senator from Idaho wrote to McNamara, "I know that you will persevere in your praiseworthy efforts to improve the quality of our military establishment."

Step Forward In Sticky World

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The world was still sticky in 1964 but at home there was steady movement forward and the air was cleared a bit, politically and otherwise, leaving President Johnson to face his first full term at ease on many issues.

Overseas the Berlin wall still stood, a reminder that East-West differences were as stiff as cement. But the United States

It's the Law
In Missouri

Question: Can an injured workman lose his workmen's compensation benefits because the accident was his fault?

Facts: Sam Smith, while driving his car, was involved in an accident in which he was injured and his car was damaged. He sued the driver of the other car for damages. The evidence showed that Sam was negligent in driving his car and his negligence helped cause the accident.

Because of his negligence, Sam Smith lost his lawsuit and received nothing for his injuries or for the damage to his car.

A few months later Sam's son, Jim, employed at a manufacturing plant, was injured while on his job. Jim told his father in the hospital that the accident happened because he, Jim, had been careless and stepped into a piece of moving machinery. Jim said that he expected to get workmen's compensation because of his injuries, however, and that his hospital and doctor bills would be paid and he would receive some other compensation in addition, in place of the wages he was losing.

Sam told his son, "I'll bet you won't get a nickel. If you were careless and got hurt because of your own fault, they'll throw you out of court like they did me when I had that automobile accident." Is it possible for Jim to lose his benefits?

Answer: The answer is no, and Jim will recover under the Missouri Workmen's Compensation Law for all of his medical expenses and weekly payments of compensation during the time he is disabled. The theory behind this law is that it is inevitable that workmen will be injured in industrial jobs; that they should not become burdens on society because of high medical expenses and loss of wages. Insurance is carried and the cost of paying for the insurance is charged against the industry as a whole. Irrespective of who is at fault, the workman is entitled to his benefits. There is a provision in the Workmen's Compensation Law, rarely encountered, whereby the employer may be penalized an additional amount of benefits for failure to comply with the law or to install required safety equipment and likewise, an employee may be penalized a part of his benefits for deliberate injuries or failure to use required safety appliances. This penalty is applied so infrequently that it scarcely needs to be mentioned.

and the Soviet Union accommodated themselves a little better to the idea that both have to live on one earth.

The Congo was a mess but there was an even worse mess in the American-backed war against communism in Viet Nam.

Egyptian President Nasser, like others this year, rebuffed the United States. He said anyone who didn't like Cairo's attitude could "drink from the sea," and Egyptian way of saying "go to hell."

The 15-member NATO alliance stayed intact but the partners began to feel free to cut their individual capers, now that danger from the Soviet Union has dwindled. It was like a poker game with 15 decks of cards.

The grunts and groans coming out of the split between those one-time allies, the Soviet Union and Red China, added little to enlightenment. They sounded like a couple of used-car salesmen trying to convince a customer on a washboard road.

The new men in the Kremlin, ever since throwing out Premier Khrushchev, have been shuffling around in a kind of soft-shoe act, waiting for the music to start.

The west doesn't know what they'll do, what direction they'll take, or whether Khrushchev's departure was a turning point in history.

But at home the economy was booming for a record fourth year in a row. To pep it up even more Congress gave it a blood transfusion, with the biggest tax cut in history.

In the long view the achievements in the field of citizens' rights, civil and political, perhaps will be most memorable.

In a year in which three civil rights workers were murdered in Mississippi and Negroes rioted in Northern cities, Congress passed the most far-reaching civil rights act of the century.

Then, with extraordinary speed, the Supreme Court supported it a couple of weeks ago by upholding the new law's ban on racial discrimination in places of public accommodation, like hotels, or motels, or restaurants.

Gradually opposition to desegregation was melting. It was the court which started the melting with its decision against public school segregation 10 years ago.

But, even without the civil rights ruling, the court would have made this a memorable year. For half a century injustice had been piling up in the states where city people were getting less representation in state legislatures than country people.

Neither Congress nor the legislatures would correct it. The Supreme Court stepped into this vacuum of responsibility and ordered reapportionment so that each man's vote means as much as any other's.

But it was the presidential election which settled, for years to come, the direction this country will take.

Because Democrats and Republicans for decades looked like twins, the presidential races began to resemble personality contests rather than different views of life and government for voters to choose between.

This year the voters got a clear choice between the conservative Sen. Barry Goldwater and the much more moderate Johnson. The President won with the greatest plurality in history, 43 million to 27 million votes.

As a result, the two parties' candidates for a long time are likely to be liberals or at least middle-of-the-roads.

HIGHLIGHTS
AND
FROM YOUR STATE
CAPITOLMost House, Senate
Leaders Already Picked

When the 73rd General Assembly of the state of Missouri opens its six-month-long session early in January, there will be many new faces and quite a few old ones set to enact a variety of legislation, not all of which will be outstanding.

In the House, the leadership is already chosen, both for the Democratic majority and the Republican minority.

Rep. Thomas D. Graham of Cole County once again will serve as Speaker of the House. This will be the third straight legislative session to be presided over by the Jefferson City attorney.

Graham first was elected to the state legislature in 1950 and has been re-elected each time since then and will be starting his eighth two-year term. He was first picked as Speaker in 1961 and again in 1963 as well as this past fall.

M. E. (Charlie) Bauer of the Third District in Jackson County, who will be beginning his sixth term in the House this session, will serve as Majority Pro Tem. Majority Floor Leader will be H. F. (Pat) Patterson of Columbia and Mel Carnahan of Rolla has been elected his assistant.

Donald J. Gralike of St. Louis' Fourteenth District, starting his second term in the House this session, will act as Majority Whip.

On the Republican side, Rep. Ronald Belt of Macon returns for his second term as Minority Floor Leader. Belt first was selected to the House in 1958 and has won re-election in three succeeding campaigns.

Minority Whip once again will be William Phelps of the Seventh District in Jackson County who is serving his third term in the legislature.

Over in the Senate, John W. Joynet of St. Louis, who acted as Majority Floor Leader two years ago, will take over as President Pro Tem, a post held the past two sessions by Sen. Albert M. Spradling of Cape Girardeau.

Majority Floor leader in the Senate during the 1965 session will be Sen. William B. Watters of Liberty, a veteran of two previous terms. In the 1963 session, Watters served as chairman of the Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence.

President of the Senate is the Lieutenant Governor, Thomas F. Eagleton, the former Attorney General.

Senate Republicans are expected to caucus shortly after the opening of the 73rd General Assembly.

Millions In Bonds
Voted During 1964

During the year just ended, over two dozen Missouri communities voted on and approved revenue and-or general obligation bonds for industrial expansion and development which reached into the $15 million range.

And, incidentally, not one bond issue brought before the voters for these purposes, was defeated.

Revenue bonds generally don't require a tax increase and are relatively easy to get across while general obligation bonds, on the other hand, usually necessitate an increase in the local levy or a continuation at the present tax level.

The largest bond issue passed during 1964 for industrial purposes was a $5 million revenue proposal to finance a plant for the Ruberoid Company at tiny Anapolis. In this election, not a single resident dissented.

At Webb City, an issue for $325,000 in revenue bonds was approved for a lawnmower parts manufacturing company but the community has been unable to sell the bonds.

Before industrial bonds can be placed before the voters, plans for the bonds' use must be approved by the state Commerce and Industrial Development Commission. Most recent action of the commission was approval of a $150,000 revenue issue for Wheatland which probably will come up for a vote early in January.

On the other side of the fence, local bond issues for sewer and waterworks improvements didn't fare so well during 1964. Of 27 bonds issues brought up for a vote, 17 passed and 10 were defeated.

Total on the bonds approved was $10,238,000 while the defeated issues amounted to over $8 million.

The largest issue approved in this area was a $4 million proposition at Kansas City.

State Water Supply
Subject of Report

The Missouri Water Resources Board in a required year-end report on water needs in Missouri, has recommended that the 73rd General Assembly enact legislation establishing a state Water Development Fund of $500,000 annually.

This would enable the state to participate in future municipal and industrial water storage projects with the federal government.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Think Twice Before
Booking Jaunt to Mars

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Space travel can sound like a picnic in the park. In reality, it is fraught with many hazards.

Our astrophysicists and physiologists are aware of many of the problems involved. They are busy finding solutions for each of them, but it isn't easy. At present we can't be sure we even know what all the problems are. A few of them:

High energy cosmic rays can be a threat to human beings. Furthermore, every 11 years solar flares release radiations consisting of alpha particles, electrons, gamma rays, hard X-rays, ultraviolet rays and possibly others.

Exposure to even a small dose of these rays, some of which might penetrate a spaceship, could have immediate or delayed damaging effects on the space travelers. One of these effects is the destruction of antibodies, leaving the victim a ready prey to all types of infection.

Keeping the body supplied with fluids is another problem. Purification of urine is only a partial solution. The fluids lost through perspiration and respiration will be much harder to collect and purify.

Getting enough physical activity is another concern, and the lack of the resistance of gravity does not help the problem.

Further more there is some evidence that some body functions that we think of as automatic are controlled by gravity.

These include emptying the urinary bladder, the gall bladder, the stomach and other organs.

Even a prolonged stay in bed in an uninterrupted horizontal position can interfere with the smooth working of these organs.

In the absence of gravity there is also the danger that free-floating fluids will be inhaled into the lungs. As if that were not enough, a violent sneeze could propel you backward with enough force to crack your skull against the wall of the cabin.

Add to this the possibility of a collision of the ship with a meteorite no larger than your head. How much damage this would do I can't say, but it could demolish the spaceship.

Once your ship has landed on a planet with an atmosphere quite different from ours, your first request on meeting a friendly (?) native probably would not be "Take me to your leader," but "Take me to your nearest hospital."

So go back to your space fiction for a little while longer. Perhaps the earth isn't such a bad place after all.

Youth Killed While Playing With Guns

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Leonard Burgess, 16, of State Park Place, Ill., was shot and killed Sunday night while he and another youth played with guns. Sheriff's deputies said Duane Holliday, 13, a neighbor of the victim, was holding the gun that discharged.

Deputies said Jerry Frazier, 15, at whose house the incident occurred, told them they were playing with a .22 caliber rifle and a gun that belonged to his father. He said the gun accidentally discharged, striking Leonard.

Turbulent Year For Movie World

By BOB THOMAS
 AP Movie-Television Writer
 HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This has been another turbulent year for the movie world.

Death, divorce, illness and a kidnap trial were among the top news stories of 1964. At year's end, more trouble appeared on the horizon. The film industry was faced with the possibility of a major strike, and clashes over the moral content of movies seemed imminent.

Despite these travails, Hollywood appears healthier at the end of 1964 than it has in recent years. The reason: business is good. Large numbers of Americans once more find excitement in going to the movies. In addition, most of the major studios are successful in their television operations.

With rare exceptions the film companies had good news for their stockholders this year. All this seemed to prove what some of us have suspected for a long time: that Hollywood thrives on trouble.

Here is how the top news stories of the movie world stacked up to this reporter:

1. The Sinatra kidnap trial. The bizarre kidnaping of Frank Sinatra Jr. at Lake Tahoe in December 1963 was followed by a trial that was equally bizarre. It ended in the conviction of the three men accused of the crime.

2. The Elizabeth Taylor-Richard Burton wedding. The event itself may have seemed anticlimactic, but nevertheless the highly headlined pair continued to make news.

3. The deaths of Gracie Allen, Harpo Marx and Eddie Cantor. Coming within a few weeks of each other, the loss of these great stars seemed to signal the sunset of a great era in entertainment.

4. Sidney Poitier's Oscar. Few Academy Awards have been as happily received by the film community as Poitier's for "Lilies of the Field." The award to the Negro actor was well-deserved, but it was especially significant in a time of racial unrest. Patricia Neal's Oscar for "Hud" was another popular choice.

5. The death of Alan Ladd. The sudden passing of the laconic, steel-eyed star was a shock to Hollywood. He had only recently made a comeback with "The Carpetbaggers."

6. George Murphy's election to the Senate. The former dancer was scarcely taken seriously when he announced he would run for the U.S. Senate. Even some Hollywood Democrats couldn't disguise their pride when Murphy won the election, achieving the highest elective post for any film figure.

7. Peter Sellers' heart attack. The youthful, newly married British comedy star was rescued from death by a hospital team after eight heart arrests.

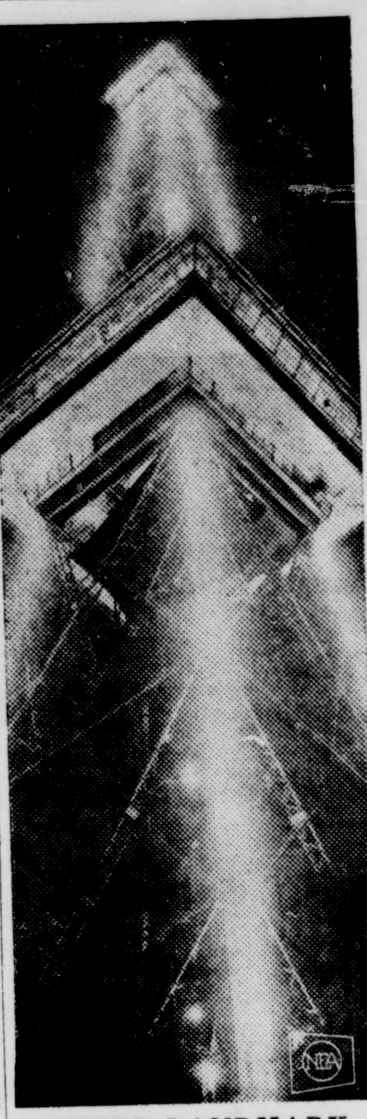

8. Ethel Merman-Ernest Borgnine. Their much-publicized marriage lasted five weeks. At year's end "McHale's Navy" skipper was engaged again, to actress Donna Rancourt.

9. The Beatles. They were the hottest attraction in show business and their visit caused riots in Hollywood, as they have everywhere. Their film "A Hard Day's Night" surprised everyone by being uncommonly good.

New Highway To Cut Farmer Off From Barn

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — After Interstate Highway 35 is built across his farm, Edgar N. Petty figures he'll have to drive eight miles to go from his house to his barn.

The barn is 400 feet from the house, and the highway will go between them. The highway department is scheduled to take possession of the 295-foot-wide right-of-way Tuesday.

Petty said the road also will: Take 17 of his 160 acres. Cut off 22 acres of choice pasture land.

Eliminate two stock ponds. Put the farm on a dead end lane.

Destroy the solitude of country living.

"I can't possibly assess all the damage," Petty said. "And it's so expensive to go to court."

An appraisal board set a damage figure that is satisfactory with him, Petty said, but the state is suing him to reduce the amount.

A livestock feeder, Petty is director of the Clay County Livestock Association. The prospects of having to relocate are sobering.

"Wherever I go, I'll be feeding cattle," he said.
